Finale Inventory for Multi-Channel Ecommerce Sellers

Finale Inventory's online, cloud-based solution removes the complexity of selling on multiple marketplaces by managing incoming and outgoing orders in one place. From purchasing, inventory control, shipping and order fulfillment, Finale helps businesses simplify all aspects of their ecommerce operations saving money and time with improved efficiency, accuracy and reporting.

Through integration with ShipStation, Finale consolidates orders from your selling channels (Amazon, eBay and common shopping carts) to keep track of your inventory stock levels in a central location. Having all the critical data in one place empowers you to make business decisions based on global information, which you can access from anywhere in seconds.

Finale keeps tracks of inventory stock levels and allows the warehouse team to know where to find stock in the warehouse. Finale keeps track of the inventory by sublocations and by bins. Pull sheets with bin-location information make the picking process more efficient. Finale's integrated barcode scanner solution supercharges the warehouse efficiency while reducing human error.

Do you sell stock that requires tracking lot or serial number information? No problem. Finale makes it easy to keep per-stock-unit information from the start (receiving or manufacturing) to finish (shipping the products) giving you complete transparency.

With Finale in place, businesses will have the proper foundation to scale their operations and focus on their growth.

After setting-up the initial marketplace in Finale, the time required to set-up an additional marketplace is negligible. You can have the new marketplaces running in Finale in just a few moments. You can increase your merchandizing profile by adding new products lines or selling kits comprised of existing products.

Finale provides powerful tools reduce the time spent in the purchasing process and to eliminate stock outs while giving you tighter control on your on hand inventory. With Finale, you can set quantity thresholds and reorder quantities. Finale will tell you when it's time to order more, and will automatically construct the purchase orders for you on a per-supplier basis

Finale offers an intuitive yet powerful solution to enable multi-channel online retailers to increase revenue, decrease costs, and increase efficiency. We will assist you to achieve your goals with unsurpassed customer service. Contact us today and learn how Finale can help take your business to the next level.

Finale Capabilities

ShipStation Integration. Finale's inventory management solution is the perfect complement to ShipStation. Add Finale Inventory to keep track of your stock on hand without changing anything with your existing shipping process. Using ShipStation's API, Finale communicates with ShipStation behind the scenes to keep accurate inventory stock levels from orders shipped within ShipStation.
Turnkey Mobile Barcode Solution. Finale's custom scanner software works with any Windows mobile barcode scanner to allow warehouse workers to perform warehouse operations quickly with fewer errors.   Functions such as receiving, picking, conducting stock takes, and stock transfers are quick and easy. After they're finished, simply sync from the scanner to Finale making the changes available to everyone.

Lot and Serial Number Tracking. Finale Inventory allows you to create and track your products via batches, lots, or serial number. Finale ensures clear traceability of your products and makes it easy to track per-product information from receiving to shipping.

Kitting. Finale's convenient kitting feature allows you to sell kits without having to pre-assemble them. Easily create bill of materials for what you'd like to sell. Finale will decrement inventory stock levels of the child products when a kit is sold and shipped.

Powerful Reordering Functionality. Use the reorder functionality to set reordering thresholds for each product to avoid stock-outs. Our reorder module quickly calculates what needs to be ordered for any given supplier to save you valuable time creating the purchase orders.

QuickBooks integration. Finale directly integrates with both QB Desktop and QB Online to ensure all information between the two systems remains consistent. Finale syncs down information such as purchase orders, sales invoices, customers, and supplier information to allow your Finance team to continue using QB for bookkeeping while avoiding double entry of data.
